With over a decade of experience as a professional makeup artist, Sage Maitri has worked for some of the world's best photographers. Sage is known for her consistent ability to deliver flawless looking skin, and her up-to-the-minute looks combined with a fearless use of color. be beautifully bold for date night!

Get ready to turn heads on date night with this beautifully bold look, featuring intense long-lasting eye color with NEW COVERGIRL Intense ShadowBlast, paired with a soft pout. Follow these tips from Sage Maitri to master this chic look for fall.

For beautifully bold eyes, try NEW COVERGIRL Intense ShadowBlast in Extreme Green. The formula provides rich color, and the built-in primer makes the rich color last. Apply up to the crease, all over eyelid. Concentrate color at the upper and lower lashlines and blend with fingertips.

For added intensity and definition, try COVERGIRL LiquilineBlast Eyeliner in Brown Blaze. You'll get all the intensity of a liquid with the ease and blendability of a pencil. Apply on upper and lower lashline. Gently pull up on the eyelid to ensure color gets in between the lashes.

The built-in smudger tip on LiquilineBlast Eyeliner lets you customize your intensity. Use this end for a subtle, smoky look.

After curling lashes, apply COVERGIRL LashBlast Fusion Mascara in Very Black to upper and lower lashes, adding a dramatic blast of both volume and length.

Prep lips by gently exfoliating with the textured side of a wash cloth. For sheer color and shine of a gloss with the soft, lightweight feel of SPF 15 balm, apply COVERGIRL NatureLuxe Gloss Balm in Hibiscus. With mango and shea butter, this feel-good formula leaves your lips feeling decadent and delicious.

NEW LOOK. NEW DAY. WHO KNEW!

Hi!

Okay, deep breath. Before you dive into this issue, repeat this mantra to yourself: This is going to be fun! I know that back-to-school can be sort of stressful. You basically start thinking about your major first-day fashion moment the minute school is out at the beginning of summer! There is a lot of pressure to get your look just right. I always get that panic before a big event that my shoes are all wrong, my jeans are so last year, and my whole life would totally change if only I had the right accessories—why didn't I buy that bracelet when I had the chance! But there's no sense beating yourself up. Will freaking out magically make new clothes and the perfect accessories appear in your closet? Um, no. (I've tried—it only gives you stress zits.)

Consider this issue an official no-pressure zone. You don't have to worry about a thing. There are sooo many cute fashion and beauty ideas, so all you have to do is flag the ones you like, take this issue to the mall, and bam—your first-day look is taken care of! Plus, our brilliant fashion team gives you free style ideas to make last year's stuff look totally fresh again. (I'm going to rock the jeans trick on p. 98.)

Check out the amazing products that won our Bestie Awards (p. 114)—they make it impossible for you to make a beauty mistake! These are the hair, skin, and makeup goodies that girls swear by. (Thirteen million Seventeen readers can't be wrong!)

And when you've got your look down, check out our new column "Get Killer Confidence!" on p. 160. This month Taylor Swift shares her secrets for walking into any room (like homeroom!) and owning it! I love that Taylor says she always feels confident when she's wearing red lipstick.

What's the one thing that makes you feel confident? E-mail me at ann@seventeen.com and tell me how you're going to work it on your first day!

start with bargains!

"I start my shopping at Forever 21 and H&M so that I can build my wardrobe without spending a ton of money. Once I've got all the basics covered, I'll splurge on a few nice things. Trust me—if you start at the pricier stores, your money never stretches as far!"

WHAT you THINK!

Stuff you're talking about right now!

IT WORKED!

"I've never been able to stick to a workout plan—until I was flipping through the June/July issue and saw '5 Weeks to Total Body Confidence!' I was nervous at first, but I started the plan the next day and gave it my all. I immediately began to feel healthier. I lost 10 pounds, my mood has improved, and I get fewer headaches. Plus, I feel more confident than ever!"

–lynzee, 15, haslet, mi

from fling to real thing

"I took the June/July quiz 'Summer Fling or Real Thing?' It was right: just a fling! Right before college, I met a guy from Oregon. We hung out, we made out, and then we Facebooked for a while until I realized that we didn't have all that much in common. Now we've both met people who are much better for us!"

–AMELIA, 21, COWICHE, WA

love to lauren

Everyone has been talking about Lauren Spierer, the 20-year-old Indiana University student who went missing in early June.

"Lauren Spierer's disappearance is terribly sad. To know that she had goals and was going to college breaks my heart. My prayers are with the family. It makes me afraid to be alone in places, and I think more about keeping safe."

–emma ann, via facebook.com/seventeenmagazine

you nailed it!

"The bold and funky nail designs in '10 Hot Trends (for $10 or Under!)' in the June/July issue were great. I love doing nail art, and I have a few tricks I thought I'd share:

1) Put scotch tape around your nail if you're doing something messy; 2) use stripers—they come in tons of amazing colors, and the thin brush lets you create almost any design you want; and 3) be patient! The worst thing is smudging your hard work because you're rushing!"

–KELCEY, 18, SOMERSET, NJ

free stuff!

"I learned about @heyitsfree on Twitter after reading 'Followers Get Free Stuff!' in the June/July issue. Now I've gotten stuff like Herbal Essences, Pantene, juice, and even cheese snacks! Following @seventeenmag has its perks, too. I got a reminder about the Freshman 15 program and was able to apply, something I've always wanted to do!"

–olivia, 18, lincolnshire, il

SHE'S A STYLE STAR!

"The Seventeen Ultimate Guide to Style inspired me to step up my style. Check out my look based on page 16. It's put together but still feels casual for school!"

–cassie, 16, lansing, ks

DIY runway!

You can re-create these amazing designer pieces in just three simple steps. Consider it the coolest (and chicest!) homework ever.

17 expert: Erica Domesek from the blog psimadethis.com

P.S.- I made this...

TASSEL BAG
inspired by Burberry Prorsum

what you need:

1 TAKE one piece of leather and cut thin strips of equal width, stopping about one inch from the top.

2 GLUE the rope to the uncut strip at the top near the corner and let dry. Roll the leather tightly to form a tassel.

3 GLUE the end down. Repeat to form another tassel at the other end of the rope. Glue the center of the rope to the inside of your bag.

SPOTTED TEE
inspired by Marc Jacobs

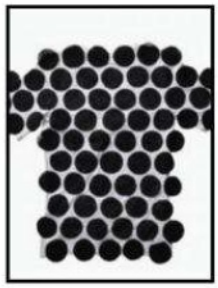

what you need:

1 TRACE a circle with a two-inch diameter on paper, cut it out, and use as a stencil to create circles of fusible fabric.

2 PLACE the shirt on a flat surface, and position the circles in a grid pattern. Leave some hanging off the edges to continue the pattern.

3 IRON each circle in place. Once cool, flip shirt over to iron down the overhanging edges. Repeat pattern on the front of shirt.

COOL CAMO

HOW-TO: The best thing about this design is that you can't mess it up! Just choose several shades in the same color family and paint them in splotches to literally camouflage your nails.

try: (from top) OPI Nail Lacquer in Gargantuan Green Grape, $9, ULTA stores; Revlon Top Speed Fast Dry Nail Enamel in Electric, $6, drugstores; China Glaze Nail Lacquer in Starboard, $7, chinaglaze.com for stores

HOT TIPS

Fiery red bands make nails look longer—and super-fierce.

try: Essie Nail Color in Bungle Jungle, $8, salons

try: Sally Hansen Complete Salon Manicure in Back to the Fuchsia, $7, drugstores

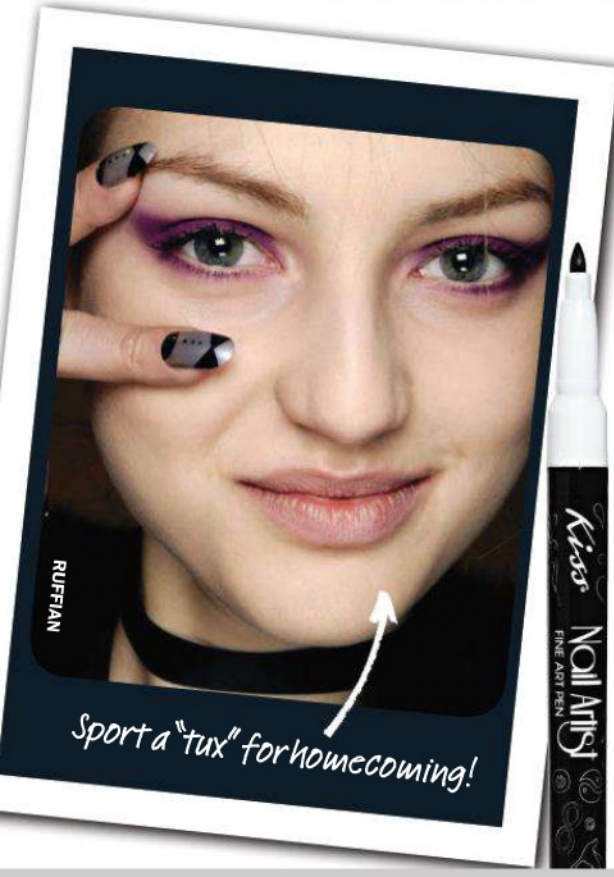

NEON LIGHTS

Kick a French mani up a notch with a clear base and fluorescent tips.

GRAPHIC nails

TAKE NOTES LIKE YOU MEAN IT! THESE MANIS GRAB MAJOR ATTENTION.

BOLD BOW TIE

A black-tie design gives formalwear some extra edge!

try: Kiss Nail Artist Fine Art Pen in Black, $6 for pack of two, Walgreens stores

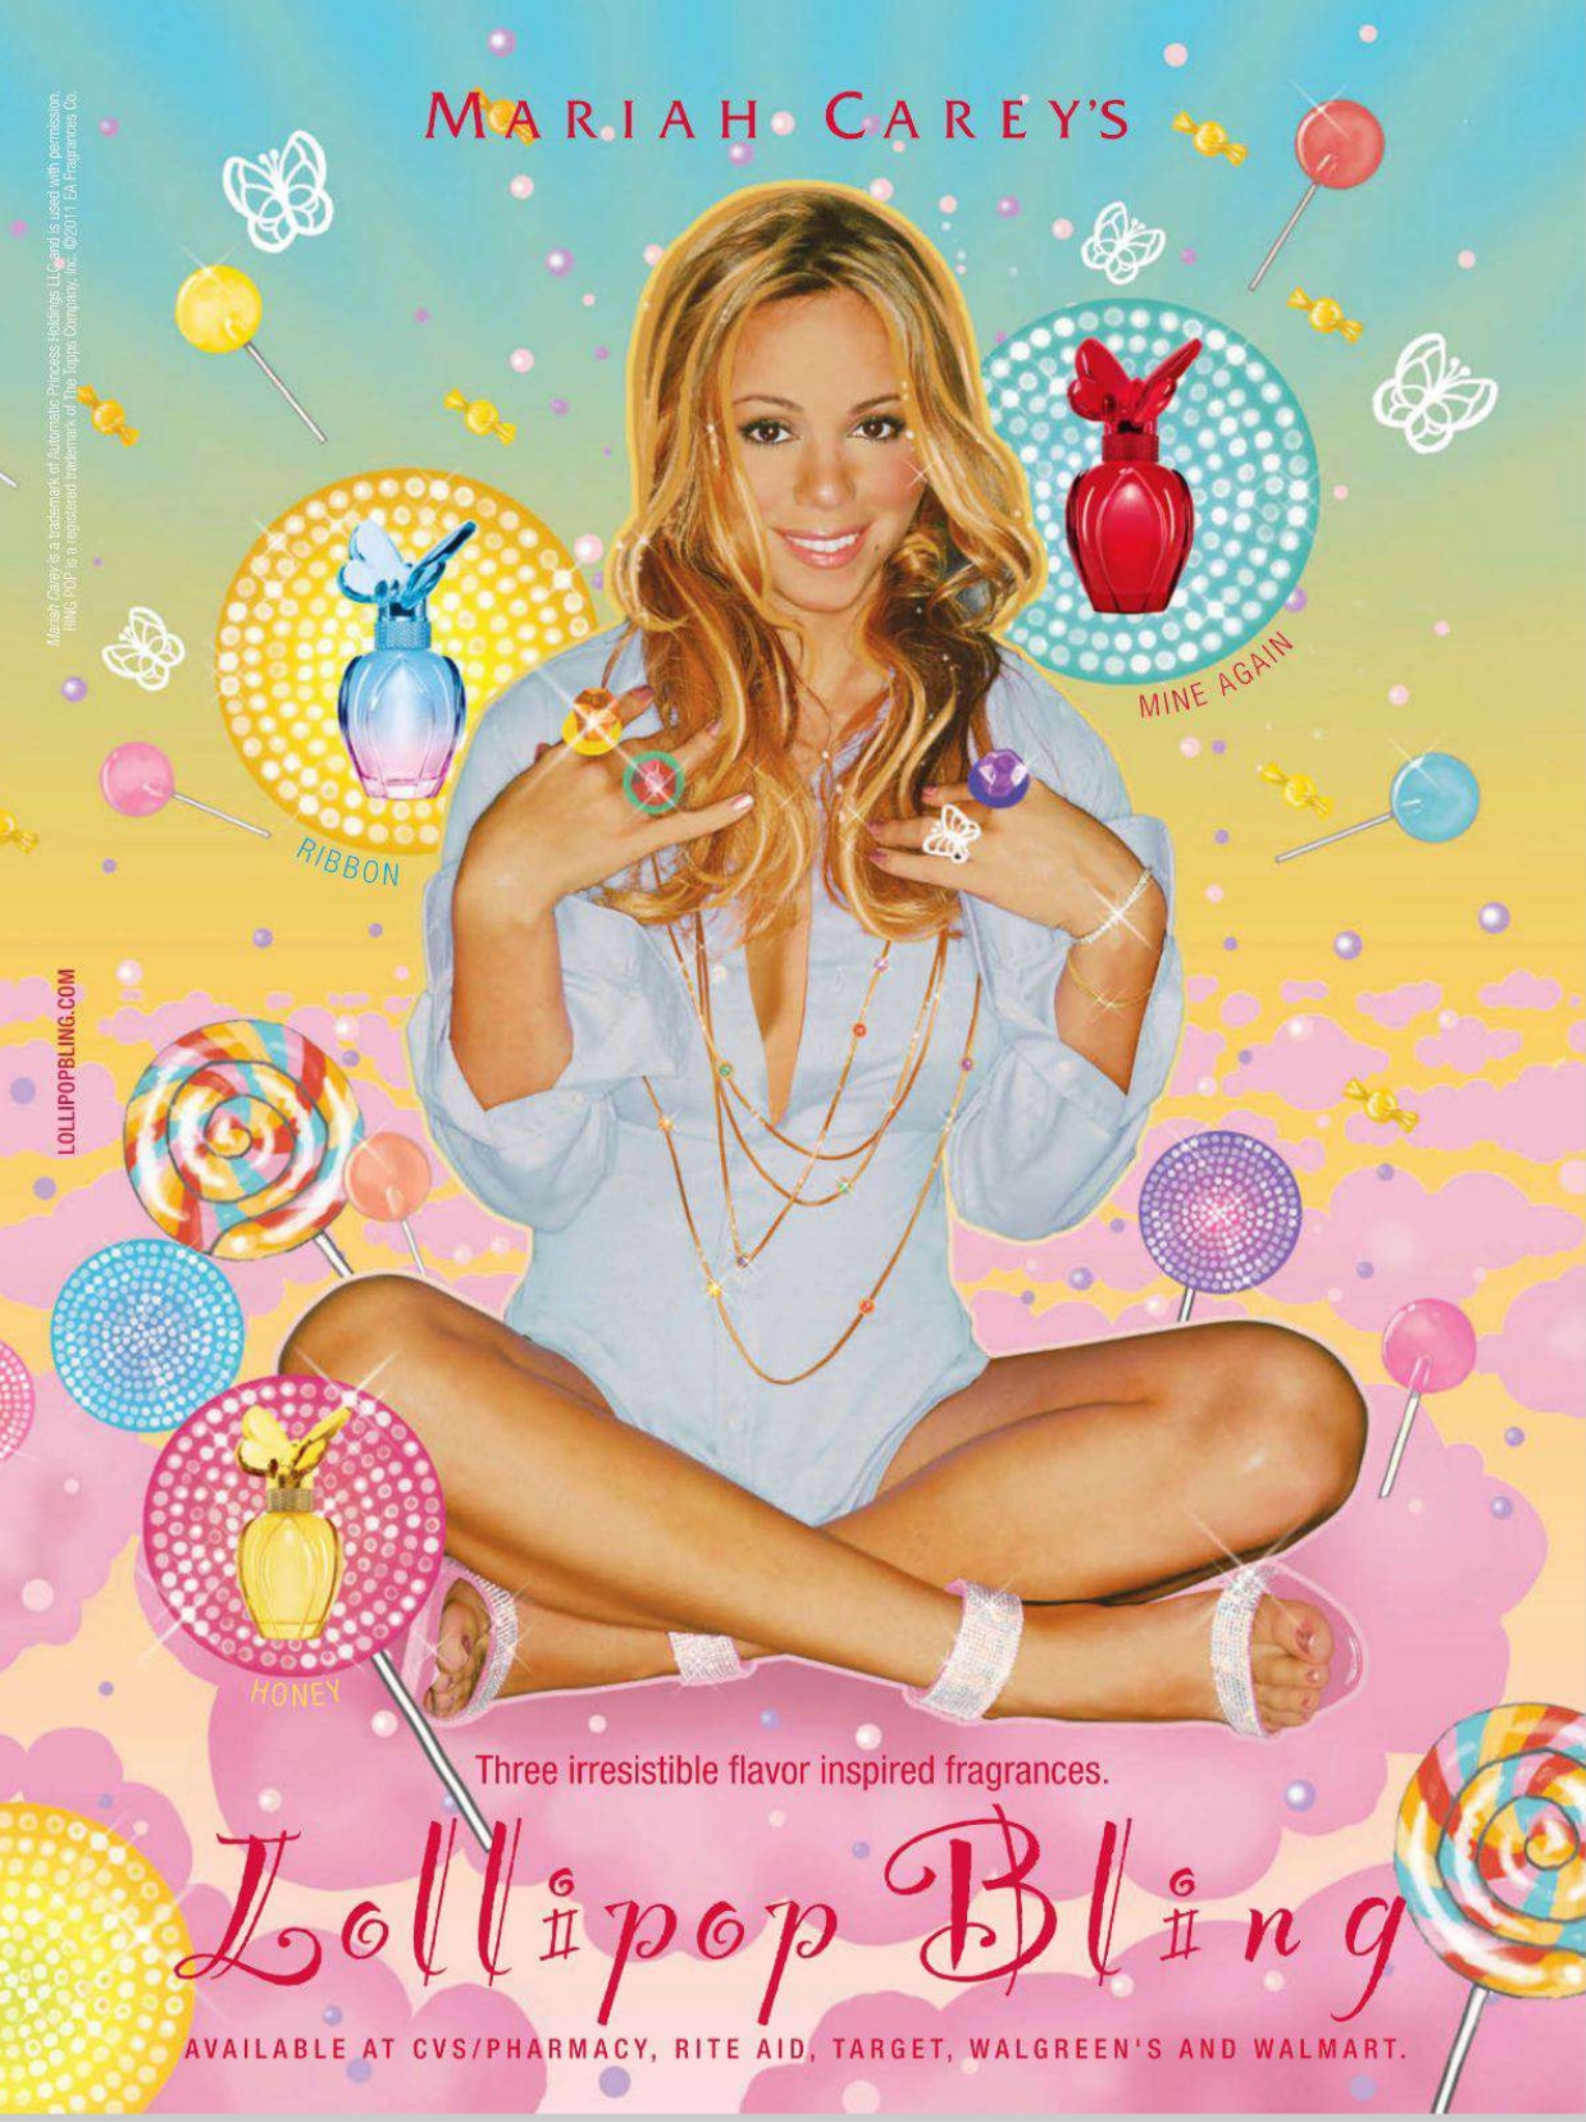

LINE UP

HOW-TO: Color-block your nails with two contrasting shades (paint the lighter one first, in case the darker shade overlaps slightly). Let dry for two minutes, then use a skinny nail artist brush to lay a diagonal stripe across the top of each nail.

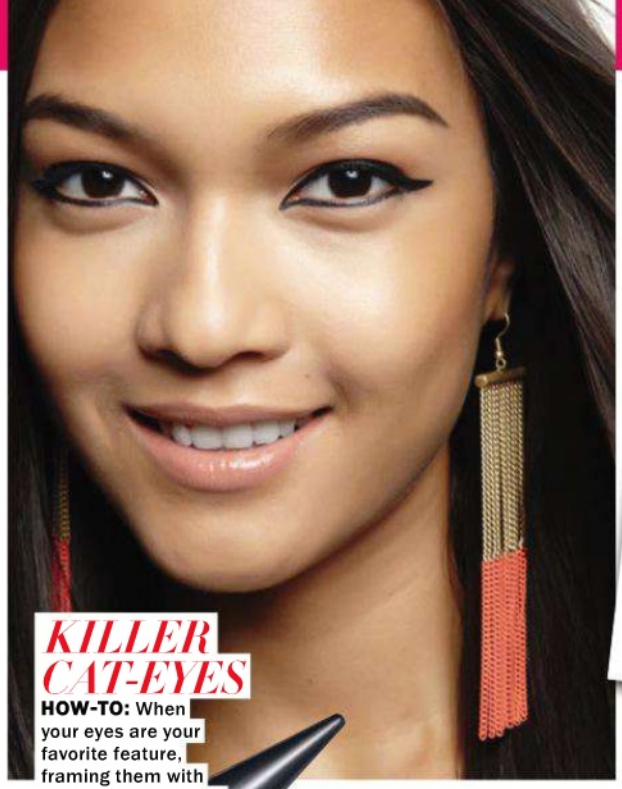

try: Orly Instant Artist in Platinum, $6, ULTA stores

ON MODEL: (BOTTOM RIGHT) CLUTCH, LULU'S; RING, AMI CLUBWEAR

RING POP® is a registered trademark of The Topps Company, Inc. ©2011 EA Fragrances Co.

KILLER CAT-EYES

HOW-TO: When your eyes are your favorite feature, framing them with a clean, glossy black line is all you need to show them off.

try: Sephora Smoky Kohl Eyeliner in N°1 Black, $12, Sephora stores

EDGY lines

DON'T BE AFRAID TO COLOR OUTSIDE THE LINES ONCE IN A WHILE.

POSH PURPLE

Take your wings to new heights by trading in basic black for a jolt of color.

try: Hello Kitty Charmmy Eyeshadow Stick in Sweet Lavender, $16, Sephora stores

DOUBLE WINGS

One wing is classic, but two makes it modern.

try: Tarte EmphasEyes Amazonian Clay Waterproof Eyeliner Pot in Black, $22, Sephora stores

BRONZE SMOKE

Glide a creamy copper around top and bottom lids—the smudgy lines make it mysterious. Then dab gold on inner corners to create a pop of light.

try: Urban Decay 24/7 Glide-On Shadow Pencil in Rehab, $20, Sephora stores; Milani Liquif'eye Metallic Eyeliner Pencil in Gold, $8, Walmart stores

The gold adds glam for a party!

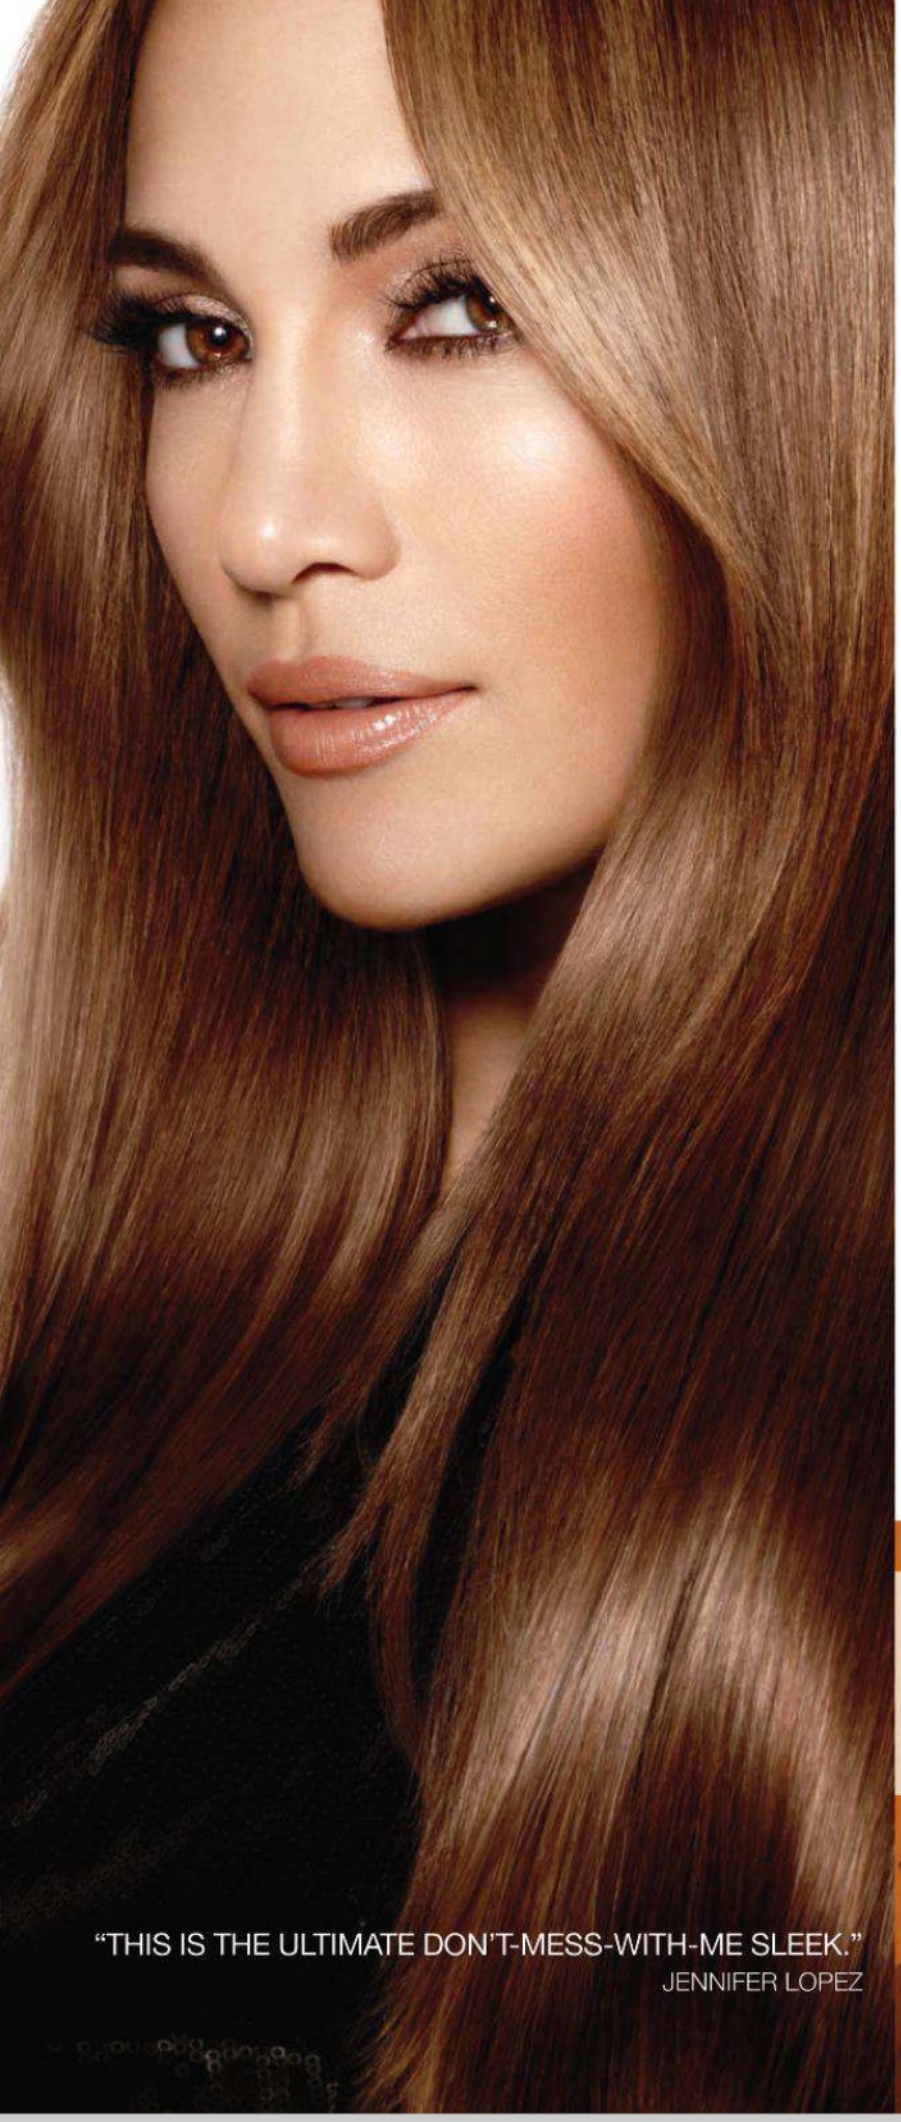

try: Make Up For Ever Aqua Cream in #7 Fuchsia, $22, Sephora stores

TROPICAL PUNCH

HOW-TO: Light up your lids with a blast of fruity color! A simple black line along the bottom keeps the look defined.

try: NYX Cosmetics Jumbo Eye Pencil in Orange, $5, nyxcosmetics.com

EPIDUO™

Rx only

(adapalene and benzoyl peroxide) Gel 0.1% / 2.5%

For Topical Use Only
Not For Ophthalmic, Oral, or Intravaginal Use.

BRIEF SUMMARY

INDICATIONS AND USAGE

EPIDUO Gel is a combination of adapalene, a retinoid, and benzoyl peroxide, and is indicated for the topical treatment of acne vulgaris in patients 12 years of age and older.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

None.

WARNINGS AND PRECAUTIONS

Ultraviolet Light and Environmental Exposure: Avoid exposure to sunlight and sunlamps. Wear sunscreen when sun exposure cannot be avoided.
Erythema, scaling, dryness, and stinging/burning may occur with use of EPIDUO Gel.

ADVERSE REACTIONS

Observed local adverse reactions in patients treated with EPIDUO Gel were erythema, scaling, dryness, stinging, and burning. Other most commonly reported adverse events (≥1%) in patients treated with EPIDUO Gel were dry skin, contact dermatitis, application site burning, application site irritation, skin irritation.

DRUG INTERACTIONS

Exercise caution in using preparations containing sulfur, resorcinol, or salicylic acid, medicated or abrasive soaps and cleansers and products with high concentrations of alcohol or astringents in combination with EPIDUO Gel.
Concomitant use of topical products with a strong drying effect can increase irritation. Use with caution.

Pregnancy

Pregnancy Category C. There are no well-controlled trials in pregnant women treated with EPIDUO Gel. Animal reproduction studies have not been conducted with the combination gel or benzoyl peroxide. Furthermore, such studies are not always predictive of human response; therefore, EPIDUO Gel should be used during pregnancy only if the potential benefit justifies the risk to the fetus.
No teratogenic effects were observed in rats treated with oral doses of 0.15 to 5.0 mg adapalene/kg/day, up to 25 times (mg/m²/day) the maximum recommended human dose (MRHD) of 2 grams of EPIDUO Gel. However, teratogenic changes were observed in rats and rabbits when treated with oral doses of ≥ 25 mg adapalene/kg/day representing 123 and 246 times MRHD, respectively. Findings included cleft palate, microphthalmia, encephalocele and skeletal abnormalities in rats; and umbilical hernia, exophthalmos and kidney and skeletal abnormalities in rabbits. Dermal teratology studies conducted in rats and rabbits at doses of 0.6-6.0 mg adapalene/kg/day [25-59 times (mg/m²) the MRHD] exhibited no fetotoxicity and only minimal increases in supernumerary ribs in both species and delayed ossification in rabbits.

Nursing Mothers

It is not known whether adapalene or benzoyl peroxide is excreted in human milk following use of EPIDUO Gel. Because many drugs are excreted in human milk, caution should be exercised when EPIDUO Gel is administered to a nursing woman.

Pediatric Use

Safety and effectiveness of EPIDUO Gel in pediatric patients under the age of 12 have not been established.

Geriatric Use

Clinical studies of EPIDUO Gel did not include sufficient numbers of subjects aged 65 and over to determine whether they respond differently from younger subjects.

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility

No carcinogenicity, photocarcinogenicity, genotoxicity, or fertility studies were conducted with EPIDUO Gel.
Carcinogenicity studies with adapalene have been conducted in mice at topical doses of 0.4, 1.3, and 4.0 mg/kg/day (1.2, 3.9, and 12 mg/m²/day), and in rats at oral doses of 0.15, 0.5, and 1.5 mg/kg/day (0.9, 3.0, and 9.0 mg/m²/day). In terms of body surface area, the highest dose levels are 9.8 (mice) and 7.4 times (rats) the MRHD of 2 grams of EPIDUO Gel. In the rat study, an increased incidence of benign and malignant pheochromcytomas in the adrenal medulla of male rats was observed.
No significant increase in tumor formation was observed in rodents topically treated with 15-25% benzoyl peroxide carbopol gel (6-10 times the concentration of benzoyl peroxide in EPIDUO Gel) for two years. Rats received maximum daily applications of 138 (males) and 205 (females) mg benzoyl peroxide/kg. In terms of body surface area, these levels are 27-40 times the MRHD. Similar results were obtained in mice topically treated with 25% benzoyl peroxide carbopol gel for 56 weeks followed by intermittent treatment with 15% benzoyl peroxide carbopol gel for rest of the 2 years study period, and in mice topically treated with 5% benzoyl peroxide carbopol gel for two years.
The role of benzoyl peroxide as a tumor promoter has been well established in several animal species. However, the significance of this finding in humans is unknown.
In a photocarcinogenicity study conducted with 5% benzoyl peroxide carbopol gel, no increase in UV-induced tumor formation was observed in hairless mice topically treated for 40 weeks.
No photocarcinogenicity studies were conducted with adapalene. However, animal studies have shown an increased tumorigenic risk with the use of pharmacologically similar drugs (e.g., retinoids) when exposed to UV irradiation in the laboratory or sunlight. Although the significance of these findings to humans is not clear, patients should be advised to avoid or minimize exposure to either sunlight or artificial irradiation sources.
Adapalene did not exhibit mutagenic or genotoxic effects in vitro (Ames test, Chinese hamster ovary cell assay, mouse lymphoma TK assay) or in vivo (mouse micronucleus test).
Bacterial mutagenicity assays (Ames test) with benzoyl peroxide has provided mixed results, mutagenic potential was observed in a few but not in a majority of investigations. Benzoyl peroxide has been shown to produce single-strand DNA breaks in human bronchial epithelial and mouse epidermal cells, it has caused DNA-protein cross-links in the human cells, and has also induced a dose-dependent increase in sister chromatid exchanges in Chinese hamster ovary cells.
In rat oral studies, 20 mg adapalene/kg/day (120 mg/m²/day; 98 times the MRHD based on mg/m²/day comparison) did not affect the reproductive performance and fertility of F_0 males and females, or growth, development and reproductive function of F_1 offspring.
No fertility studies were conducted with benzoyl peroxide.

PATIENT COUNSELING INFORMATION

- Advise patients to cleanse the area to be treated with a mild or soapless cleanser; pat dry. Apply EPIDUO Gel as a thin layer, avoiding the eyes, lips and mucous membranes.
- Advise patients not to use more than the recommended amount and not to apply more than once daily as this will not produce faster results, but may increase irritation.
- EPIDUO Gel may cause irritation such as erythema, scaling, dryness, stinging or burning.
- Advise patients to minimize exposure to sunlight, including sunlamps. Recommend the use of sunscreen products and protective apparel, (e.g., hat) when exposure cannot be avoided.
- EPIDUO Gel may bleach hair and colored fabric.

L'ORÉAL® PARIS

nail a perfect mani!

Show off your flawless fingers. (No salon needed!) Here are all the tips. BY molly ritterbeck 17 FYI: When you clip nails, snip small sections at a time. Cutting them all off in one shot will weaken your nails and make them break.

step 1: FILE

Use a fine file and run it straight across the tip of your nails with a back-and-forth motion. Then round the corners so they don't snag.

EXPERT TRICK: Don't file along the sides or buff the tops. It will weaken nails and cause them to peel.

step 2: PREP

Apply a cuticle remover with a gentle acid (such as alpha hydroxy or glycolic) to dissolve the dead skin around your nails. Then use a metal pusher to push them back neatly, and wipe clean with a towel.

EXPERT TRICK: Swipe on acetone after this step so your polish adheres better!

step 3: POLISH

Make your mani last by starting with a base coat, then paint on two coats of color using three thin strokes (center, left, and right) from cuticle to tip. Finish with a top coat.

EXPERT TRICK: Place the hand you're painting on a computer mouse—it will give you the perfect position to paint steadily!

YOUR TOOLKIT:

CUTICLE PUSHER

Pick up a long-lasting stainless steel version—it's more sanitary than the wooden ones, which can harbor dangerous bacteria.

try: Tweezerman Pushy and Nail Cleaner, $17, tweezerman.com

CUTICLE REMOVER

This one does all the work for you! It sloughs away old cuticles, prevents hangnails, and hydrates your nailbeds.

try: CND Cuticle Eraser, $11, cnd.com

NAIL FILE

Look for a file with a fine grit for natural nails. Anything rougher can tear up the edge of your nail!

try: Kiss Fun File, $2, beautyonlinesupply.com

ALMOND SHAPE!

To get this rounded pointy look, use press-on tips for the extra length. File the corners at a diagonal to form a point, then round out the top.

STEP 2:

COOL DOWN!

After a heart-pounding workout, use these moves to recover—and get even more defined!

YOUR PERSONAL TRAINER

NAME: Mari Winsor

LOCATION: Los Angeles, CA

WEB SITE: winsorfit.com

TRAINING TIP:

"You can do these moves without a band, but make sure you work hard to keep every movement slow and controlled."

ROLL DOWN, ROLL UP

Strengthens back and defines abs!

TRAINING TIP:

"As you roll up and down, slide or walk your hands along the band to keep some tension."

A Sit with resistance band wrapped around flexed feet. Round spine over legs and look down at knees.

B Slowly roll down, placing each vertebra on the mat, one at a time.

C Roll until entire body is flat, then roll up the same way. That's one rep. Start with 5; work up to 8.

SINGLE LEG CIRCLES

Lengthens legs and tones hips!

TRAINING TIP:

"Keep your hip rooted in the mat. Only your leg should move!"

A Lie with left leg straight up in air. Wrap resistance band around left foot and hold it with elbows touching mat.

B Make a circle (about the size of a melon) with your leg: Go right to cross body, then down and around. Do 5. Repeat in the other direction. Switch legs.

KNEE OPEN-CLOSE

Shapes thighs and boosts butt!

TRAINING TIP:

"Make the band tighter around your legs as you get stronger."

A Sit. Fold band in half, then wrap it around thighs and pull loose ends through to make a loop. Hold ends tightly with left hand.

B Roll onto right side, legs bent at 90° and stacked on top of each other.

C Open and close knees 10 times. Repeat on other side.

best lunch ever!

Stuck eating the same old thing . . . again? These lunches are yummier and healthier—but still super-easy to make.

TURN A SALAD INTO A WRAP!

rainbow veggie wrap

MAKE IT: 10-inch whole wheat tortilla + 2 tbsp. light veggie cream cheese + veggies, like cucumber, spinach, baby carrots, and red and yellow peppers, cut into strips.

A salad can get soggy and runny by lunch. But crisp veggies wrapped with a little low-fat cream cheese is healthy and satisfying!

ADD FRUIT TO YOUR SANDWICH!

nutty cinnamon apple sammy

MAKE IT: 2 tbsp. peanut butter + crisp Granny Smith apple slices + whole wheat cinnamon raisin swirl bread

Who isn't over plain PB&J? Take it up a notch with yummy cinnamon bread and slices of Granny Smith apple. The extra fiber from the fruit will keep you fuller longer!

MAKE SNACKS A REAL MEAL!

snack plate

MAKE IT: whole wheat pita, toasted + 2 tbsp. hummus + 1 cup grapes + 1 cheese stick + unlimited veggies and salsa!

It's okay not to want a heavy lunch, but grabbing a granola bar and a Diet Coke (empty calories) will make you crash. For longer-lasting energy, mix bite-size veggies and pita crisps with a little protein and healthy fat, which you get from the cheese and hummus here!

RETHINK YOUR LEFTOVERS!

noodle salad

MAKE IT: 1 cup leftover spaghetti noodles + 3 oz. precooked grilled chicken strips, cubed + 1 cup frozen snap peas + 2 tbsp. bottled peanut sauce

Instead of packing leftover spaghetti with last night's marinara, make this quickie pasta salad. The chicken and veggies turn those carby noodles (total snooze food!) into brain power for your last few classes.

seventeen taste test SNACK TIME!

Don't give in to the junk in the vending machine! These treats are better for you—and easy to stash in your locker.

CRUNCHY!

SKINNY COW HEAVENLY CRISP CANDY BAR, PEANUT BUTTER FLAVOR

This tastes like a Kit Kat and a peanut butter cup had a baby—but with about half the fat and sugar!

SWEET!

FIBER ONE CHOCOLATE FUDGE BROWNIE

This will kill that intense need for afternoon chocolate without making you feel blah. Bonus: Its five grams of fiber make it more filling than a typical cake or cookie!

SALTY!

FOOD SHOULD TASTE GOOD CHEDDAR TORTILLA CHIPS

These taste kind of like Doritos but are less greasy. They're perfect for when you get that craving for something salty or cheesy!

no more shopping meltdowns!

THE seventeen Body Peace PROJECT

You're excited to hit the mall . . . until that bummer moment when nothing fits. Here's how to leave the dressing room with your self-esteem intact.

fitting room fail
Hate everything? Call it a day! It's most likely your mood, not your body.

☑ prep yourself

Before a major shopping trip, pay attention to the details that make you feel amazing: Put on your cutest underwear, give your hair extra attention, and cue up positive songs to blast on your iPod in the fitting room. (Seriously! Your favorite girl power playlist always makes you feel confident, right?)

☑ pack a healthy snack

When you're hungry, you get cranky—so anything you try on will set off negative thoughts. Always eat before you leave and stick a granola bar in your purse to keep your blood sugar (and mood) from dipping.

☑ try a blind size test

Take a few different sizes into the fitting room and jumble them up. Then try them on without looking at the labels. That way, instead of freaking out about the size, you'll focus on how hot you look!

☑ snap a pic

Bad lighting and warped mirrors make everyone look crappy. So step out of the tiny stall and have a friend take a photo on her phone. It will soften the weird mall lighting and you won't be right up against the mirror, where everything is magnified.

TRY IT ON AT HOME!

"If I see something I really love and it's returnable, I buy it. That way I can move around in it at home and get a true sense of how it feels on my body. Plus, I have all of my favorite accessories on hand, like the perfect shoes or the belt that shows off my waist!"

Balance is Key

Mix fun items from summer, like flirty skirts, with fresh fall pieces. Get prepared for this look by using Venus Embrace. Embrace gets virtually every hair to leave legs feeling dramatically smooth.

Welcome to the Jungle

Animal print is hot right now, especially when worn with a solid hue. Take a flirty piece and pair it with something school-appropriate, such as a dress with a high neckline. Think school chic, yet glam.

Denim is a Classic

Jeans will always be a style staple. Mix it up this fall by incorporating denim pieces with flare. We love denim jackets and dresses for a bohemian chic look.

Runway to Hallway

Fabulous legs are an essential to feeling great while rocking a runway favorite like tailored shorts. We love the five-bladed Venus Embrace for a long-lasting shave.

the trickiest hookup situations

No matter how awkward the circumstances, there's a smooth way to tell him what you're really thinking. BY amber madison 17 FYI: More than 8 in 10 guys told Seventeen that they would "gladly" wear a condom if asked.

SITUATION #1

What he's doing doesn't feel good.

Even experienced guys need to tweak their makeout moves! The trick is telling him without crushing his ego.

☑ Move his hand. You don't even have to say anything! Taking control is a gentle way to show your guy what you do and don't like.

☑ Speak up gently. Start with a little compliment. Say: "I'm so into hooking up with you, but it would feel better if you used a lighter touch or slowed down a bit."

☑ Be positive too! Don't just say what doesn't work—say what does! When something feels good or you like the way he's kissing, pull away and let him know.

SITUATION #2

You went further than you wanted to go (but don't want to again).

Just because you've done something once doesn't mean you have to do it again. Tell your guy:

"I wasn't totally sure I was comfortable going as far as we did. And now that we went there, I know it's not something I'm really ready for. I like you, and I like hooking up with you, but I need us to back up and take it slower again."

SITUATION #3

He doesn't want to use a condom.

Don't be shocked when a guy throws an excuse at you—be armed with the facts!

HE SAYS:	YOU SAY:
"It doesn't feel as good for me with a condom."	"But it doesn't feel as good for me without one, because instead of thinking about you, I'll be worrying about what could go wrong, like pregnancy or STDs."
"What, you think I have an STD or something?"	"Of course not. But condoms protect both of us from STDs and pregnancy—which are things neither of us wants to deal with."
"Aren't you on birth control pills?"	"Even if I take my pills perfectly every day, there's still a chance of getting pregnant. That's why I want to back it up with a condom to be safe."
"I'll just pull out."	"The thing is, even if you pull out, I can still get pregnant from pre-ejaculate, which comes out before you finish. To me, that's just not worth the risk."

Seriously! He likes it when you speak up. "If we're not on the same page about a hookup, it leads only to regret. Plus, speaking up shows maturity, which is very attractive." —MARCUS, 19, BROOKLYN, NY

what he's really trying to say

HE SAYS:	HE MEANS:
"What are you doing this weekend?"	"I want to see you, but I'm too nervous to ask."	WHY: This shy guy is crossing his fingers that your convo will turn into a chance to hang out. Spare him the awkward small talk and say, "I've been craving IHOP. Want to go?" He'll love you for it!
"I like you, but I don't want to rush anything."	"I think I can do better."	WHY: His comment seems hopeful (like he just needs time!) but really, it's noncommittal. He doesn't see you as girlfriend material—he just wants to string you along until he finds a new girl.
"That guy is lame. Why are you into him?"	"Why aren't you into me?"	WHY: Hearing you gush about another dude makes him feel competitive. If he keeps finding reasons to diss the other guy in the future, that's more than just jealousy: He totally likes you!
"Who will be there?"	"Some of your friends suck."	WHY: Harsh truth—one of your friends drives him crazy, and he's already dreading spending time with her. Tell him to bring one of his friends, so he doesn't feel overridden by girl talk.

juicy questions for . . .

jason derulo

His songs are burning up the charts—but his greatest hits are his hot flirting tips!

BY elisa benson

jason's stats

Age: 22. Hometown: Miami, FL. You know him from: chart-topping singles like "Don't Wanna Go Home" and "Whatcha Say." Right now: Catch his album Future History, out September 27. PS: He's single! ;)

17: What kind of girl instantly catches your eye?

Jason Derulo: I'm obsessed with little black dresses! If a girl has a little black dress on, it definitely gives her an edge.

17: Let's say a girl sees a hot guy at a party. What's the best way to talk to him?

JD: Keep it subtle. Just go up and ask a question, then another question. Two questions, boom. Three questions is a little much—if he doesn't ask you one back by then, he's probably over the conversation.

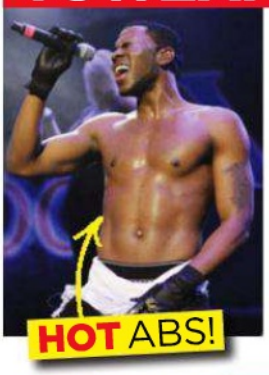

17: What gives you so much confidence with girls?

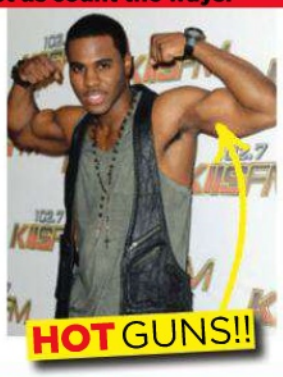

JD: I just think, What's the worst that can happen? If it doesn't work out, then it wasn't supposed to work out, and you can move on with your life.

17: Have you ever been totally shut down by a girl?

JD: Absolutely. One time I was at the gym, gettin' my abs on, and there was a girl working out next to me. I overhear her listening to "In My Head" and I'm like, Aw, perfect. So I lean over and say, "Hey," but she wasn't paying any attention. So I say it louder. Finally she pulls out one earphone, and I'm like, "What are you listening to?" And she's like, " 'In My Head.' " And I said, "That's cool—that's actually my song. Hi, I'm Jason." And she's like, "Pfft!" and puts her headphones on and goes back to her workout. It was ugly.

why he doesn't want to be official

Guys are notoriously hard to pin down once school starts! Here's why.

status check
Keep in mind—it's not you, it's him. Seriously!

HE DOESN'T WANT TO GET HURT

"My last relationship ended badly, and it's made me think twice about getting serious with anyone new. When you keep things casual, it's safer—either of you could walk away at any minute."

–DAN, 18

HE THOUGHT YOU WERE FRIENDS WITH BENEFITS

"I was really good friends with this girl who I started hooking up with. But when she began talking about our future, I realized it was a mistake. I just couldn't get on the same page—I still saw her as a friend."

–ZACH, 21

HE JUST WANTS THE CHASE

"There was this one girl who always blew off my texts—and I admit, I like a challenge, so I kept texting her back. But once she wanted to get serious, I was like, No way. I was only into the game."

–JENS, 18

UNDERSTANDABLE ← → WAY HARSH!

HE THINKS YOU'RE NOT INTO IT

"I really liked this one girl who would flirt with me all the time—then turn around and flirt with my friends. At first it made her seem sexy, but by the time she decided she was into me, I was over it. I want a girl who wants me and only me. I won't commit if I think she's unsure."

–MAX, 18

HE WANTS TOTAL FREEDOM

"While I'm young, I just want to have fun! I don't want to worry about checking in with one person all the time or committing my weekends to just one girl. I'll probably want a relationship someday—when I'm like 27."

–BRANDON, 21

HIS BROS DON'T APPROVE

"Once I ended things with a girl just because my friends didn't like her. The way I see it, girls come and go, but my friends will be here forever, so obviously their opinions matter to me."

From 2004 to 2009, there was a 53% increase in first-time heroin users over age 12 in the US.

lost loved ones Briona, left, and Erika, below, died within two days of each other.

"both my BFFs OD'd on heroin!"

Trying something risky may seem exciting at first. But Brandi, 20, and her best friends quickly saw their lives spiral out of control.

AS TOLD TO jane bianchi

I'll always remember driving around my Michigan suburb with Briona and Erika, my two BFFs. We'd blast Sara Evans's "A Little Bit Stronger" and sing at the top of our lungs. Then we'd go to the mall to try on the most expensive clothes and take funny pictures of ourselves. Those were our favorite things to do—besides heroin.

BAD HABITS

I met Bri during sophomore year of high school. At the time, I was a B student and an all-league cross-country runner. We became close when we started dating guys who were best friends. Her boyfriend and mine were the coolest, most powerful guys at school. We knew they were drug dealers and thought that made them bad-a. They got us into the best parties and bought us jewelry. They made us feel popular!

After a few months of dating, my boyfriend offered me heroin at his house. Like a lot of kids at school, I had smoked pot and taken prescription painkillers on occasion, but heroin seemed scarier. Still, I was afraid that if I said no, my boyfriend would leave me and find another girl who'd say yes. I trusted him and figured that he'd never do anything to hurt me.

Heroin made me feel numb to my problems. It made me stop worrying about getting good grades or running faster. While I was getting hooked, Bri's boyfriend was introducing her to heroin at his house. And when Erika, a cute hippie girl in my math class, and I became friendly, I told her that I had tried heroin. She asked if she could try some too. Within months, she, Bri and I were getting high together every day—before school in the car, in the bathroom at lunch, and then after school at the guys' houses. It became a fun, secret escape that bonded us together. When we were high, nothing bothered us—we felt free.

But when you're on heroin for a while, you look like a zombie. I lost color in my skin, my eyes became sunken in, and I was emaciated. It's so hard to stop, because it's so addictive. If I didn't find a way to get high, I'd go through withdrawal—the worst sickness I've ever experienced. I'd get the chills, the shakes, and nausea until I shot up again to make those feelings go away. That's when I'd truly feel gross, like an addict.

Our habits got so bad that we'd each spend $140 a day to stay high and avoid withdrawal. We did grimy things to get money. We'd steal jewelry from friends' houses and pawn it. One time I stole $3,000 from my twin sister's college savings fund! As punishment, my parents kicked me out of the house for a little while. I am deeply ashamed now, but back then, I didn't care. My only focus was getting more drugs.

> "We knew we needed to stop, but we didn't know how."

DOWNWARD SPIRAL

By junior year, my life had fallen apart. I quit running, I lost any friends who didn't do drugs, and my family was fed up with me. I got kicked out of school for skipping class, and then I got kicked out of an alternative school for drug possession. Next I got kicked out of rehab for breaking rules and went to jail for six months. When I was lying on a concrete bench in jail using a toilet paper roll for a pillow, I felt like a criminal. During that time, Erika was also in and out of jail, and Bri did some time in a juvenile detention center. We had no choice but to get clean. The withdrawal was horrible, but it was a relief to wake up and not need heroin.

But the moment we all got out, we fell right back into our old habit of getting high together. We had no idea how to be around each other and not do drugs. About once a month, one of us would overdose and get rushed to the hospital. Doctors always brought us back, though. We felt so invincible that even before we'd leave the hospital parking lot, we'd do heroin again.

Last February, I went into withdrawal and decided to quit—and I wanted to convince Bri and Erika to quit, too. But then I got a call from Erika. "Bri died! She overdosed last night!" she said, hysterical. I didn't believe her at first. I kept calling Bri's phone over and over, just to hear her voice on the message. Slowly it sunk in. She wasn't going to answer the phone. Erika and I hung out two nights later, and she said, "Do you want to use just one more time?" I said, "Absolutely not." And she shrugged and said, "One more time won't kill me."

But she was wrong. Just when I thought life couldn't get any worse, Erika died from an apparent heroin overdose, too. After I had gone home that night, she used in her bedroom.

LEARNING FROM LOSS

It's been months, and I'm still figuring out how to live without my BFFs. At first, I thought it was a crazy coincidence. But now I think: No, this is what happens when you do heroin. People die.

I broke up with my boyfriend, and I haven't touched drugs since. I'm not clean because rehab or jail forced me into it. I'm clean because I want to be.

I've been volunteering to tell my story at high schools, drug courts, and juvenile detention centers in my county. I want teens to know that this drug doesn't care how old you are or what you have going for you—it just wants to kill you. I somehow survived, so I want to tell Bri and Erika's story to make sure they didn't die for no reason. 17 big $$$ for college!

Whether you're filling out applications or already on campus, we'll show you how to save more and stress less. BY catey hill how much does it really cost?

You have to pay for more than tuition! Cristina, 20, a junior at Syracuse University, breaks down her expenses each semester.

food: $1,000

"FYI, the school meal plan can be a rip-off—it's $25 a day at my school! So I go grocery shopping for stuff that's quick and easy to make, and spend about $70 a week."

clothes: $350

"I don't have much time to shop (who knew?!?), but each semester I buy a few new shirts, a pair of jeans, and a pair or two of shoes so I can rock new looks."

school supplies: $400

"Besides books, I didn't know I would have to pay 30 cents a page each time I print or make a copy!"

going out: $200

"Sometimes I have to pay cover charges at off-campus parties, but I look out for free events on posters around campus and through local venues' Web sites."

parking: $350

"My school charges you for an on-campus parking pass. If you need to drive to class, it's unavoidable."

Q: "I'm in college and I'm broke, so I need to work. But since I'm a student, I can't get a job with too many hours or my grades will slip. What should I do?"

A: Your school might pay you for stuff you'd want to do anyway! Some jobs like tutoring, working at sporting events, or editing for the newspaper allow you to earn money, so ask your adviser. Also, check out snagajob.com for part-time opps that will suit your busy schedule, like waitressing. But limit yourself to working 12 hours a week or less so you have time to have a life, too!

get killer confidence!

by Taylor Swift

Start the school year with your head held high! Use Taylor's confidence-boosting tips so you can walk into any room and feel like you own it.

"Being fearless isn't being 100 percent not fearful. It's being terrified—and jumping anyway."

My #1 confidence trick is: Throw your shoulders back!

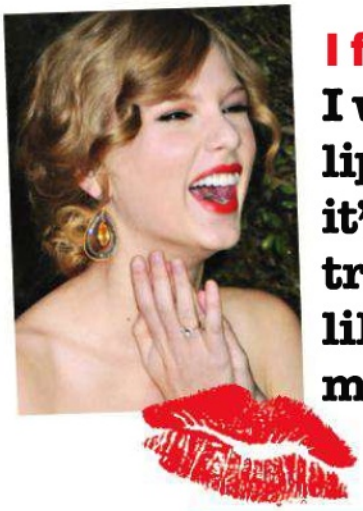

When I was 17, my dream was: this—the way my life is right now!

The first step toward making your dream a reality is: realizing what that dream is. It will be the one thing you never want to stop doing.

The best way to get what you want is: not to yell.

I feel my best when: I wear red lipstick, because it's a one-step trick to looking like you put makeup on.

The best piece of advice I ever received was: from the Alanis Morissette song "You Learn."

You live you learn
You love you learn
You cry you learn
You lose you learn

Never, ever, ever: compare yourself to beautiful girls. There's always someone gorgeous who will make you feel like you're not. It's a total confidence buster!

One risk that's always worth taking is: falling desperately, stupidly, hopelessly in love.

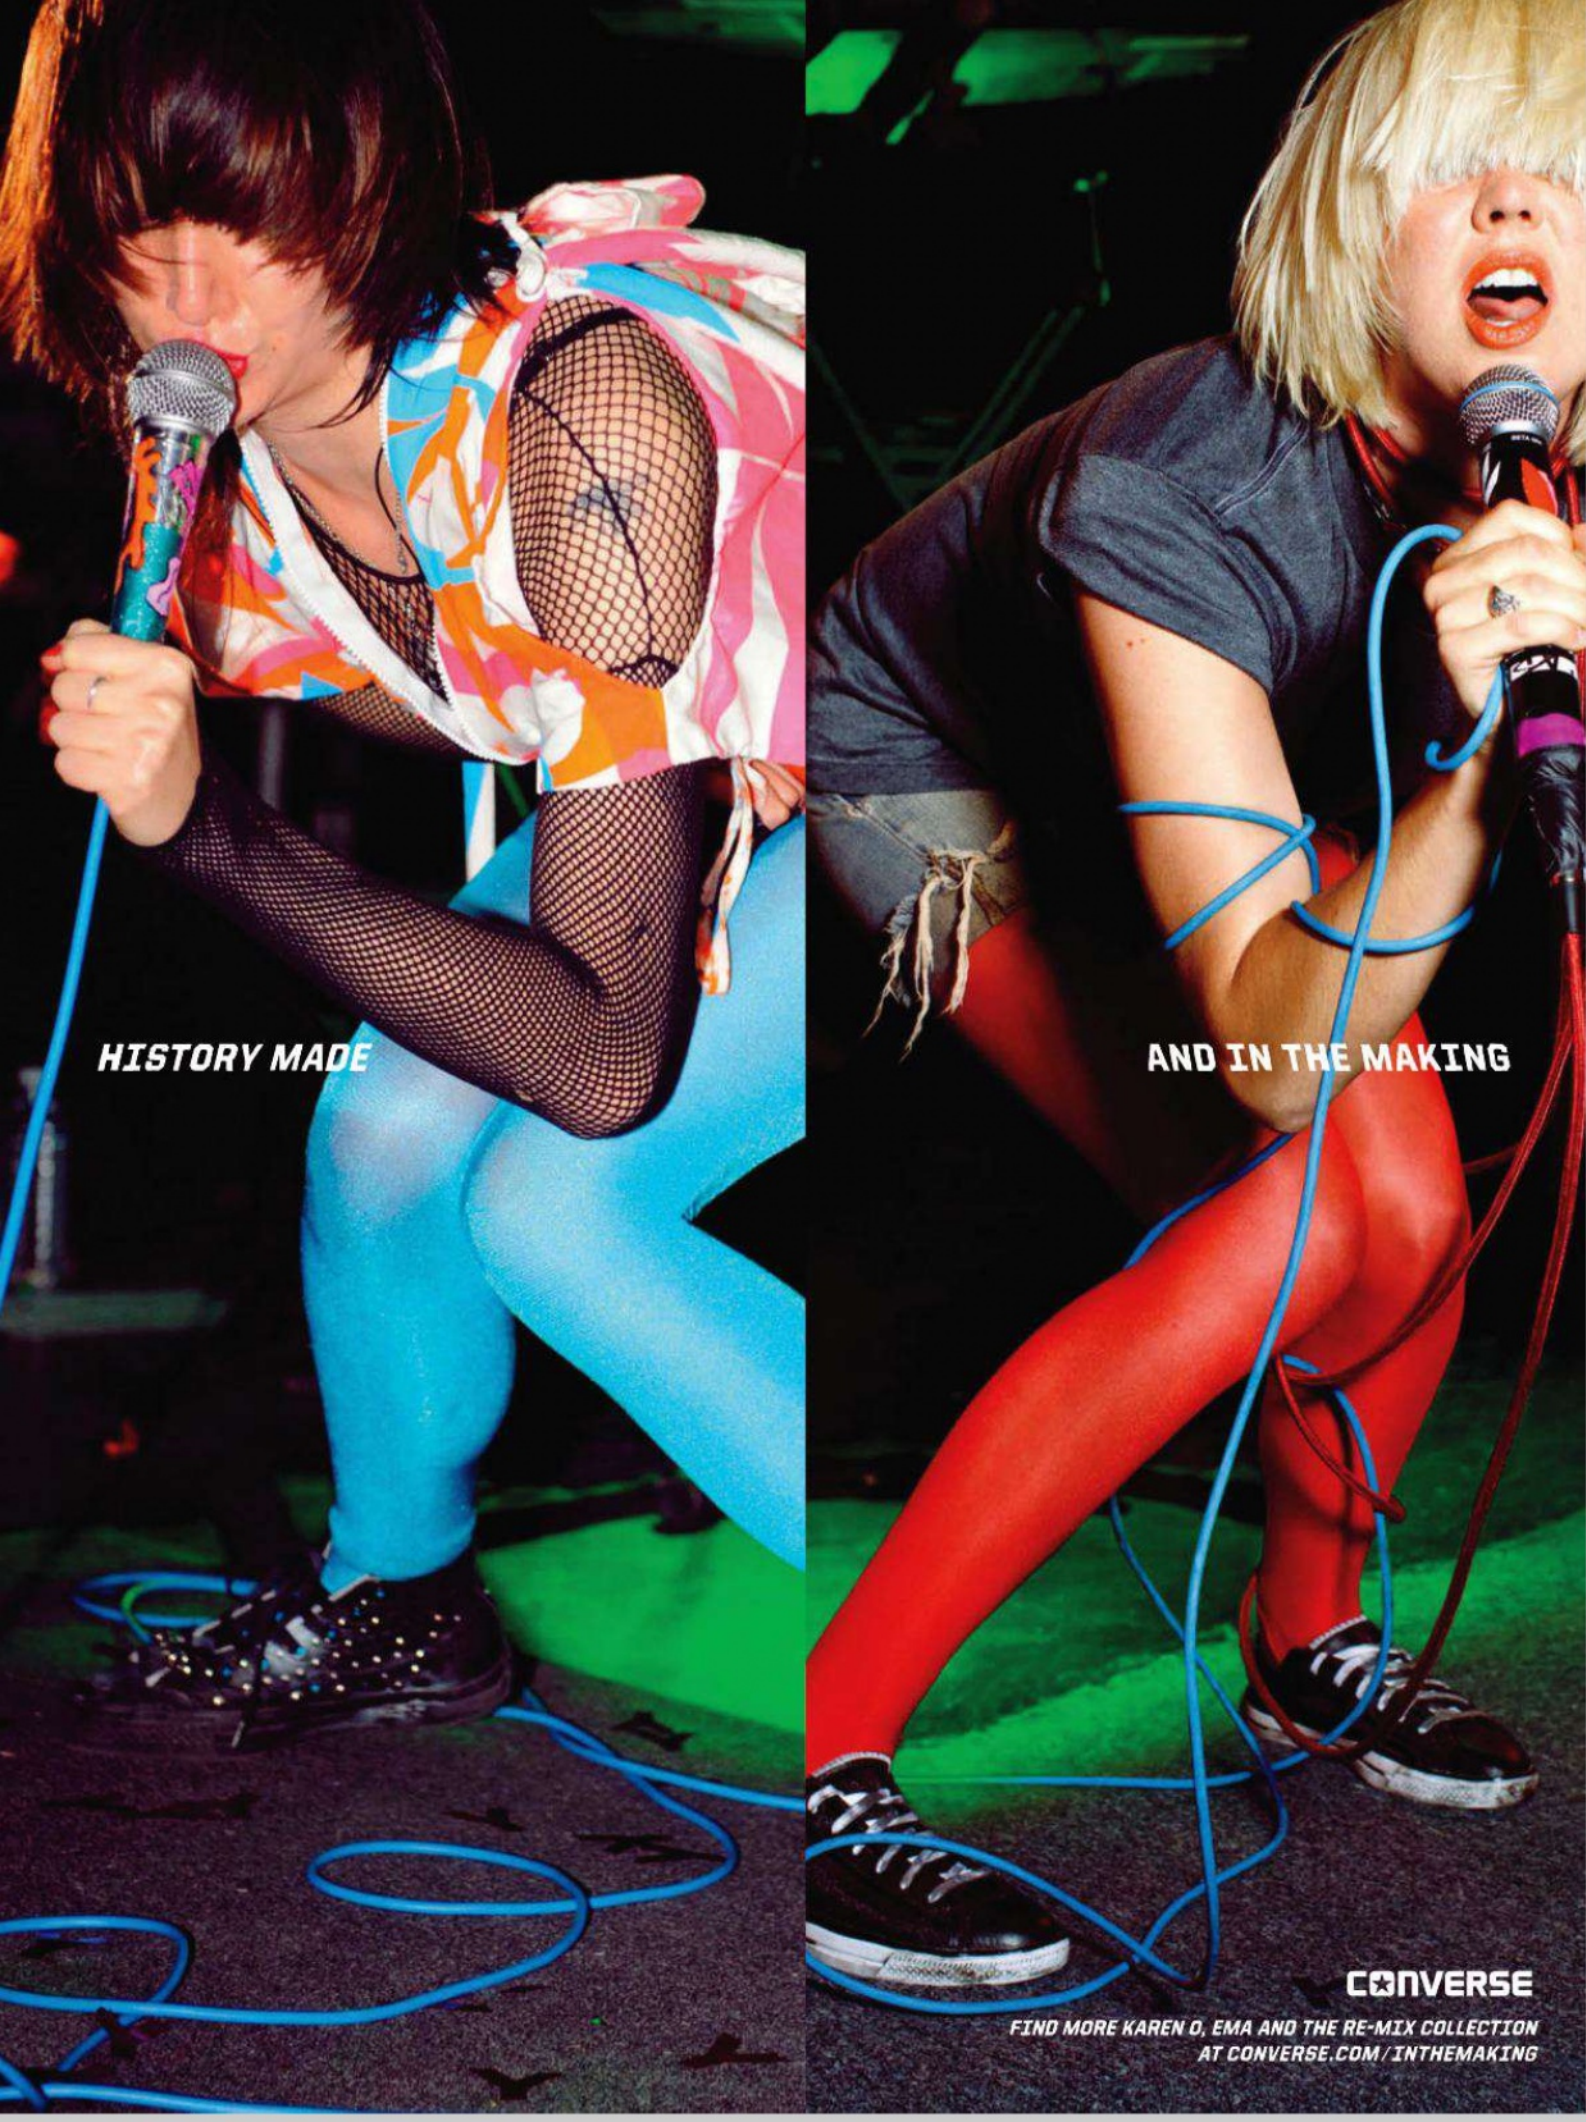

The thing that cheers me up when I'm discouraged is: food!

Cupcakes are one of Taylor's favorite treats!

dare to love

I just finished reading Lauren Oliver's Delirium, and WOW—what a captivating love story! I carried this book around with me everywhere this summer, from the beach to the train and back to my bedroom—I couldn't put it down for a second. Lauren Oliver completely captures the essence of teenage love while making you believe in the impossible. After all, love is something we can all relate to, right? Read on for more details!

XOXO,
Dana

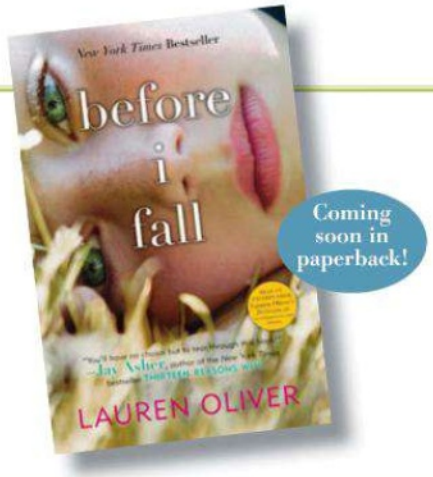

Delirium is a stunning tale of a forbidden romance. Lena Haloway has always looked forward to the day when she'll be cured of the ability to love. But with ninety-five days left until her treatment, Lena does the unthinkable: She falls in love.

> They say that the cure for love will make me happy and safe forever. And I've always believed them. Until now. Now everything has changed. Now, I'd rather be infected with love for the tiniest sliver of a second than live a hundred years smothered by a lie...
> –Lena

Want to know the best part?

Delirium is the first book in bestselling author Lauren Oliver's teen trilogy, so the next installment of the series, Pandemonium, will follow shortly! Pick up the special edition of Delirium to get an exclusive sneak peek at Pandemonium and a Q&A with the author—how cool is that?

Looking for another great read? Check out Before I Fall. This was the first Lauren Oliver book I read, and I was instantly hooked. This story twists and turns in so many directions, pulling you in right from the beginning!

February 12th should have been just like any other day in Samantha Kingston's charmed life. But instead, it turns out to be her last. Then she gets a second chance. Reliving her last day during one miraculous week, she untangles the mystery surrounding her death—and discovers the true value of everything she is in danger of losing.

Check out epicreads.com for more information on Delirium and Lauren Oliver.

ASHLEY BENSON

MEET THE GOOFY GIRL WITH THE CRAZY CONFIDENCE.

photographs by matt jones by amy spencer

ON ASHLEY: Cardigan, Alexander Berardi; shirt, Chelsea Flower; shorts, Porter Grey; hat, Moon Shadow; Buffalo nickel necklace, Lulu Frost; metal feather necklace, House of Harlow 1960; ring, Tarina Tarantino.

Every girl should have a friend like Ashley Benson. While she may play the stressed-out and sarcastic queen bee Hanna Marin on Pretty Little Liars, in real life, "I'm just really weird," she says—and hanging with her is pure caffeinated fun! For one thing, she will literally do anything to get a laugh. "I love messing with people," she says. "As a joke, one of my favorite things to do when I meet a new person on-set is to act like a total diva. Shay and Lucy [her PLL costars] always make me do it, because I'm the one who sticks to it." She'll also inspire you to take the right fashion risks. On the day she met up with Seventeen, Ashley was dressed in black—skinny black jeans, black suede stacked heels, and a black leather jacket—and she couldn't stop talking about her new safety pin necklace with little skulls on it. "I love edgy stuff," she says. "Skulls are my favorite." And wherever she goes, the guys follow. "I'm a total guys' girl," she says as she runs pink leopard-print nails through her hair. "I'm not afraid to be really weird in front of them." (Wait until you hear her killer flirting secrets!)

But this 21-year-old has a sensitive side too—and you can see it in the tenderness she brings to Hanna's overweight former self, Hefty Hanna. Growing up in Anaheim Hills, California, Ashley was pretty enough to be a model and talented enough to be a competitive dancer, but girls were constantly trying to bring her down. "I was in the popular group in school," she explains, "and then I got knocked down to nothing. No friends, nothing—they would just make fun of me." Now that she's on a hit show (PLL's fans range from rock royalty, like Madonna's daughter, Lola, to Oscar darlings like Hailee Steinfeld), she's choosing her friends more wisely. "You need only three or four really close ones and you're good," she says, counting Shay Mitchell as one of her besties. "Shay's my dancing partner," she exclaims. "We just do weird things. We dance in our apartments, on-set, in our cars. We make all these ridiculous videos!" These days, Ashley is totally cool with being the butt of the joke. "Everything I do is embarrassing," she says, laughing. She explains how embracing her true self gave her the confidence that changed her life.

I'M NOT AFRAID TO DO SOMETHING INSANE AND MAKE FUN OF MYSELF.

17: Of the PLL girls, who's the queen bee?

Ashley Benson: Honestly? I'd probably say me. Not "queen bee" exactly, but I'm very much the loudest. I love to make jokes. And I'm a really blunt and honest person. I'm never afraid to say what's on my mind. All of us are so different. I mean, Shay is the girliest person ever, and she's also the goofiest. Troian's really serious but sarcastic, and Lucy's just Lucy. I was one of her first friends in L.A. when she moved out here.

17: How did you guys meet?

AB: I've known Lucy since I was 15. Our story is really creepy. We met on Myspace. We messaged each other because we had mutual friends, and we just started talking every day. And when Lucy told me she was moving to L.A., I invited her to my friend's birthday party at Disneyland. We decided to meet there for the first time ever. But I didn't tell my mom that I met her on Myspace, and she didn't tell her mom either. And we just clicked, and from that day on, we were best friends.

17: Is it difficult to find people you connect with?

AB: I put up a lot of walls. I don't let a lot of people in. I'm more of a shy person if I don't know you. But if I know you, I'm the most outgoing and talkative person ever. I don't let a lot of people be my very close friends.

17: When it comes to guys, would you rather be single or in a relationship?

AB: I don't like being single. I've always been a relationship girl. I'm not getting married for a long, long time [laughs], but I still find myself looking at wedding dresses, and I'm always thinking, This is how I'm going to have my wedding, and this is my reception . . . the whole deal!

17: There was a flirtation between you and Joe Jonas on Twitter. Who started it?
AB: He tweeted me! We know each other just from hanging around. It's so funny because once you tweet someone, everybody sees it. And they're like, "Oh, my God, is she going out with Joe Jonas?" I got so many messages, and the next day it's all over these gossip sites, "She's going out with Joe Jonas!" I was like, "Oh, no! I'm not going out with him!" We're just very friendly.

17: Have you guys ever hooked up?
AB: Nooooo! No. No.

17: Lucy Hale told us that she thought you guys would make a cute couple. Do you agree?
AB: I think we could make a cute couple, definitely. I could definitely see us being more than friends.

17: You seem like a super-confident flirt! In NLT's music video for "That Girl," you play the girl all the guys are after. In real life, are you that girl?
AB: Yes. Only because all my friends are guys, and I'm naturally a flirt. I don't mean to be. But I'm just very touchy—I'm always slapping them and hugging them. But you can't always be that way, because they get the wrong idea. A few of them have said to me that they like me. It can be totally awkward.

17: What's your best flirting technique?
AB: To be really mean and sarcastic. Boys like it when you're mean. That's what I'm best at. I make them feel so bad about themselves, all out of fun. If they're trying to be funny, I'll say, "Wow, you're really not funny—nice work." They know that I'm joking, but I think it's really fun to toy with them. Because boys think they can get any girl anytime. And there are girls who are like, "Oh, yay, you picked me. And now I'm going to fall in love with you!" That's not me. I'm hard to please. That's what a lot of boys like about me. And I like that. [Laughs.] I like it a lot.

17: What's your type?
AB: Someone older and someone who's got their life together and has goals and is not lazy. I want someone who is hard-working, because I am. I cannot be with someone who doesn't make me laugh. They have to be really fun and not shy at all because I'm just a crazy person. I like to have a lot of fun. I'm not afraid to do something insane and make fun of myself. I don't need to date the most beautiful guy in the world. Not to stereotype them, but I feel like a lot of pretty boys have egos, and they are more likely to cheat. I tend to go for the goofy guys.

I'M HARD TO PLEASE—THAT'S WHAT BOYS LIKE ABOUT ME.

17: Your character struggles with her body image and weight. Have you ever struggled or worried about yours?
AB: I've been told I need to lose weight multiple times. There's definitely pressure. All the time. But you just can't let it get to you. So many teenagers go through a hard time because you're constantly being told you're not pretty enough, you're not skinny enough, you're not this, you're not that. That's why it's good to stay grounded, just to love yourself and to love your body, because you're beautiful the way you are.

17: When do you feel most confident?
AB: Right when I wake up I feel the most confident, because I have no makeup on, I'm in sweats and a T-shirt, and if I have friends over, I don't care. I have really bad eyes, so I wear glasses. And I just think that the more natural, the better for me.

17: Have you ever felt pressure to fit in?
AB: When I was younger, I tried to be like everybody else and I would copy everything! But I've learned to stop trying to be somebody that I'm not. And I've had so much success just being me and not what other people wanted me to be. Now I'm just completely and really true to myself. My weird, weird self.

Q&A

Q: How do I know if I'm a good kisser without asking?

A: "It's all about the lean-in. If your guy leans into you, that means he's passionate about kissing you and can't get enough! If you're doing the leaning, you might need to add a little more sizzle."

–JACOB, 18, NEW YORK, NY

be a better (kisser)!

Want to give him the most mind-blowing smooch of his life? The secret is knowing the best moves for every *kiss*uation. BY ELISA BENSON

He's standing so close, you can feel the heat of his body, smell his cologne, see his chest rise and fall with each short breath. Your own heart is fluttering so wildly, you swear he can hear it, and your whole body is tingling with anticipation about what will happen next. When you're one half-second away from a major kiss, not even one tiny part of your brain should be freaking out about making the wrong move—so we put together all new tricks just for you. You might be good now, but you're about to be epic.

what's your smooch style?

Which kiss gets your heart racing? Your answer tells all!

KATY PERRY & RUSSELL BRAND

☐ gentle caress

SWEET! To you, a great kiss is so romantic and melt-y that it makes time stand still. Try planting a trail of slow, tender pecks from your guy's ear to his lips—it will make the moment last forever.

SELENA GOMEZ & JUSTIN BIEBER

☐ full-body embrace

SEXY! You love pulling out your hottest moves—it's a thrill to know you're wowing him! Halfway into a makeout, run your lips across the soft skin on his neck. He'll melt instantly.

SARAH HYLAND & MATT PROKOP

☐ carefree moment

FUN! You think kisses are like a present: an amazing surprise! Try brushing your lips across his—without kissing him—and then pause to give him a flirty look. A little tease is deliciously playful!

Q&A

Q: How much do guys really tell their friends about a hookup?

A: "Guys definitely brag about their hookups. We like to exaggerate, usually about how much the girl liked us—like saying she was totally into it and couldn't get enough. Girls shouldn't worry, though—we always make sure you sound extra hot!"
–WILL, 18, MADISON, NJ

HANDS ON!

No need to let your arms awkwardly hang by your sides! Here's your "hand" book.

IF HE...	THEN YOU...
wraps his hands around your waist	hook your arm around his neck. Your sweet move matches the intimacy of his gesture and lets you pull him as close as you want.
puts his hand in your hair	gently place the warm palm of your hand on his neck, then run your fingertips up through his hair. He'll go crazy for the mix of sensations.
awkwardly keeps his hands at his sides	trace your fingers slowly down his arm, and then give his hand a little squeeze. It will reassure him that you're into it and help him loosen up.
gets super-handsy	place your hand on his chest—it's like putting up a barrier between you. Feel free to push him away if you need more breathing room.

Q&A

Q: When is the right moment to use tongue?

A: "After you've been making out for a bit, slowly move your tongue into his mouth, working your way up to more passionate kissing. Just don't move it around too fast—that can get weird and slobbery."

–GREG, 19, CHICAGO, IL

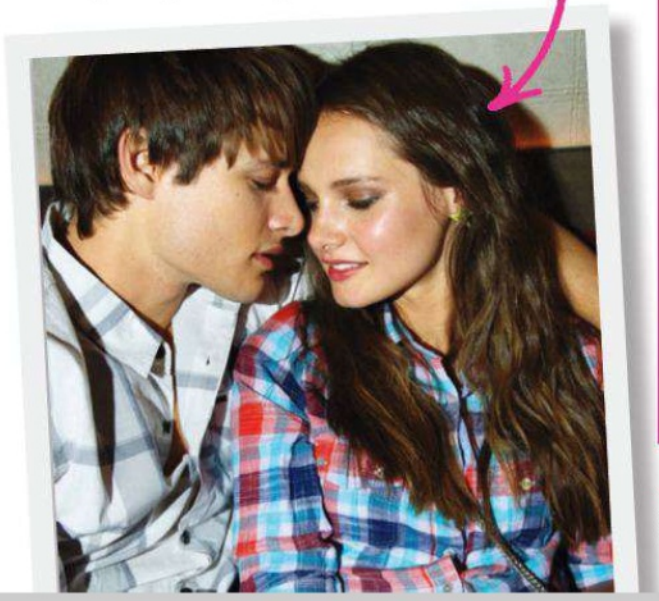

cute move
Kiss the corner of his mouth before you hit the center. Spread the love!

kiss me already!

Ask him to kiss you without saying a word.

- PLAY WITH YOUR NECKLACE. Toy with a delicate piece of jewelry absentmindedly, and his eyes will be drawn to the soft skin on your neck . . . just inches away from your lips.
- LEAN RIGHT. When you're facing a guy, tilt your head slightly to the right (his left) as you listen to him. The subtle gesture activates the part of his brain that's all about passion and taking risks (like going in for a kiss!).
- LOOK DOWN. Break eye contact for a second and glance at his lips, then look back at him flirtatiously—as if he told you a juicy secret. Purposefully sizing up his lips is the clearest way to signal that you want a kiss—now!

WHAT YOUR KISS SAYS ABOUT YOU!

Your Cupid's bow (the indent on the top of your upper lip) can reveal what you really need in a hookup!

Apply lipstick and kiss here!

EXTREME

You're a total drama queen!

17 TIP: You tend to be a no-holds-barred kisser, so look for a guy who's just as adventurous—or you'll be bored in a second!

SLIGHT

You always keep your cool!

17 TIP: Not even a steamy makeout makes you lose control. Your secret weapon is knowing it's hot to leave your guy wanting more!

NONE

You know what you want!

17 TIP: When it comes to hookups, avoid shy dudes who won't make the first move. You need a guy who's super-confident too!

FLIRTING WITH DANGER

It's easier than ever to get close to your teacher or coach, thanks to Facebook and texting. But what happens when friending turns to flirting . . . or worse? BY JANE BIANCHI

You see your teacher in class every day. He seems so cool and funny and easy to talk to, and that makes you wonder what he's like outside of school. Does he go to movies and parties on the weekends? When he friends you on Facebook, of course you accept, because you can finally have your answer—and the chance to look at his photos and giggle about his status updates. It was like that for Shanae, 19, from Greensboro, North Carolina, who was FB friends with her economics teacher senior year. "In class, he'd talk only about school stuff," she says. "But on Facebook, I knew if he had a headache or if he went on a fun date with his wife. I respected him more, because I realized he had good days and bad days, like me." Plus, having online access to your teacher can also make it easier to get an answer if you ever have a question about class. "My history and science teachers keep me posted about tests and homework on Facebook, and if I need help, I can send them a quick message," says Kristin, 16, from Houston, Texas.

For most girls, that's as far as it goes. But what if, one night after school, your teacher sends you a flirty message about how hot you looked that day? That's what happened to Alyssia, 19, from Fayetteville, North Carolina (pictured at left). She was flattered by her math teacher's compliments and kept talking to him online, enjoying the attention. It made her feel like she was his favorite student. But then their relationship got complicated. The flirtier he got, the more Alyssia felt like what they were doing was wrong. But by then she was so attached to him that she couldn't resist when he pushed her into a sexual relationship. (Turn the page for her story.) Michelle*, 19, also felt confused when her psychology teacher started Facebook messaging her every night, using smiley and winky faces. He would listen to all of her problems, and then tell her how pretty she was. "I thought of him as a good friend. He'd act like we were boyfriend and girlfriend, father and daughter, and teacher and student all at the same time," she says. After a month of chatting, he invited her to his house and then kissed her—out of nowhere. "I was totally stunned," she says.

While Aria's relationship with her teacher, Ezra, on Pretty Little Liars makes the idea seem sexy, the reality is, if a teacher or coach hits on you, it's sleazy . . . and sometimes even illegal. When he has access to you 24/7 and convinces you to share personal info, the line between friendship and something inappropriate can get very blurry. You don't know if he's crossed the line because you don't even know where the line is anymore.

"MY TEACHER SEDUCED ME!"

My 33-year-old precalc teacher, Mr. Coffelt, was cute and funny. (He'd always joke, "I drink so much, I'm surprised I don't have liver failure!") My class liked his sense of humor, because he acted like one of us. He and I didn't have any mutual friends online, so when he friended me on Facebook in November of my junior year, I knew he'd made an effort to find me. I accepted his request because I thought it would be fun to get to know him better.

At first, he'd private message me on Facebook in the evenings and ask about school, like if I was having problems in class (which I was, because I sucked at math!). But our convos quickly got personal. One day when my mom got into a fight with someone at my house, I had to stop responding to deal with it. He asked what was wrong, so I let it all out. Talking to him felt incredible. He was an amazing listener and gave me good advice. And he was so much more mature and wise than people my age!

nonstop attention

Soon we were IMing for hours every night. I loved it. He made me feel less alone. He'd tell me I was the most beautiful girl in class—nobody else had ever said stuff like that to me before. His flattery made me feel special. Then he said, "I'm sorry this flirtation can't go on outside the Internet." I wasn't sure that I wanted things to go farther, but I definitely didn't want our convos to stop. So I said, "It's okay if it does." Then he said, "If anyone finds out, I'll get in trouble. Don't tell anyone." So I kept my mouth shut. I was attracted to him but also nervous.

He started flirting with me in school by winking at me in class. And once while he was standing at my locker, I bent down to pick up a book and he joked, "While you're down there …" and pointed to his crotch. I laughed it off and ignored a voice in the back of my head that said things were going too far, since I didn't want Mr. Coffelt to stop talking to me.

sex ed
Alyssia's teacher insisted that she call him Mr. Coffelt (not Phillip) because it made him feel like he was in charge.

Fayetteville math teacher charged with having sex with student getting physical

After we'd been IMing for several months, Mr. Coffelt said I should come over to his house to talk one Saturday. I said I'd go, but then that uh-oh feeling came back. So that Friday, I texted him, telling him I was having second thoughts. He made me feel guilty, saying how much he was looking forward to it, so I felt obligated to go. When I got to his house, he hugged me and said, "I've been lusting after you since October." I felt so mature knowing that an older guy wanted me. We started talking and then he pressed me against the kitchen wall and kissed me. I was half-expecting it, but it was still surreal. On the one hand, it seemed right, because I thought he was someone who deeply cared about me. But on the other hand, he was my teacher, so I knew it was wrong. We were moving way too fast. "I don't want to do this anymore," I said. He stopped, but then said, "I'll keep trying until you say yes." I laughed it off then, but when I went to his house weeks later, I gave in and slept with him. It was exciting in the moment, but afterward, I thought: What in the world did I just do?

control freak

We had sex twice more after that, and then Mr. Coffelt's attitude changed. He started getting really controlling. He'd say, "Come to school in a dress without underwear." I did it, but it made me feel disgusting! He was treating me like a sex toy, not a person.

CROSSING THE LINE

It's important to remember that most teachers and coaches aren't. But as Alyssia discovered, the sketchy ones can push the boundaries

FRIENDLY: "Your grades are down. Have you tried our school's tutoring program?"

FLIRTY: "Your grades are down. Are you not getting along with your boyfriend? Want to talk?"

WHAT TO DO: Say, "I'm not comfortable talking about that." You'll send a clear message: Anything personal is off-limits!

FRIENDLY: He leaves an article on your desk about something he knows you're into.

FLIRTY: He slips a gold necklace or bracelet into your backpack when nobody is looking.

WHAT TO DO: Bring the gift to your guidance counselor, tell her who it's from, and say, "I don't know if I should accept this present."

hot for teacher Aria and Ezra's behavior on Pretty Little Liars is only fun on TV.

It was starting to get really uncomfortable, so I began to pull away from him and we talked just twice a week instead of every night. That summer, I even started dating a guy my age, who I'd met at the mall. When I told Mr. Coffelt, he said, "Tell him he has to share you with me." But I told him I wasn't going to cheat on my boyfriend.

At the end of the summer, when my boyfriend and I broke up, Mr. Coffelt kept wanting things to go back to the way they were. I refused. I got sick to my stomach every time I thought about hooking up with him, because he had turned into a jealous jerk rather than the compassionate guy that he had appeared to be. Not to mention that he was 16 years older and my teacher! I figured that what we were doing was probably illegal, but worse, deep down I knew I was being manipulated and used.

I couldn't sleep or eat. I was angry all the time. I even began cutting myself. My mom noticed how depressed I'd become and I eventually spilled my guts to her. She flipped out at first—crying and screaming at me. I was so ashamed. But she calmed down when she realized how much pain I was in, and then brought me to the police station so I could report him. It was a relief to lift that burden off my shoulders. I knew he was taking advantage of my low self-esteem to get me to do what he wanted, and I was so tired and stressed from feeling forced to keep it a secret.

"HE PRESSED ME AGAINST THE KITCHEN WALL AND KISSED ME!"

Mr. Coffelt was arrested and word spread, so senior year was rough. Kids at school called me a whore on Formspring. But in time, the comments faded and I was vindicated last December when Mr. Coffelt pleaded guilty to sexual battery. He no longer teaches at that school and had to register as a sex offender. I'm happy that he was punished for what he did, because I don't want him to be able to violate other girls.

Now I'm in college, so I've had a chance to start over, and I've been going to therapy to work through my feelings. His texts and FB messages made him seem like a friend, then a boyfriend. But because he had secret access to me and we got so close so fast, it allowed him to manipulate me for his own twisted purposes. At the time, I really thought we had a connection. Now I see how wrong I was. –alyssia, 19, fayetteville, nc sexual predators—their goal is to help you, not hurt you. faster and farther than you might imagine.

FRIENDLY:
You're raising your hand. He taps your shoulder and says, "Just a second."

FLIRTY:
While talking one-on-one after class, he rubs your lower back—almost touching your butt.

WHAT TO DO: Say, "I don't like it when you do that" right then and there—even if you were too afraid to say it other times before.

IN THE DANGER ZONE

These girls learned firsthand how to spot red flags from a teacher or coach.

His messages get personal

Vanessa*, 19, called the cops after her high school track coach became sexually aggressive, especially over text. "In the beginning, he texted me only to remind me about meets," she says. "But as time went on, he'd ask me about my day. Eventually, he sent me a text that read: 'We could play games. You could be Jane and I could be Tarzan and we could play 'Find the banana.' It was so gross!"

He deletes your convos

When her 11th grade psychology teacher sent her IMs telling her how pretty she was and then kissed her a few weeks after that, Michelle*, 19, was panic-stricken. But just before she pressed charges, he made sure that there wasn't enough proof to convict him. "He said he loved me and to protect our relationship, he had to delete our convos from my computer. I never should have let him," says Michelle.

He tries to get you alone

When her 36-year-old soccer coach offered to drive her to practice, Katherine, 17, of Bellaire, Texas, thought it was a kind gesture. But once they were in the car, where nobody could see them, he suddenly pulled over and kissed her. "I couldn't stop staring at his wedding ring, thinking, He's married! It was wrong on so many levels," says Katherine. "But since we were by ourselves, it was my word against his."

TRAUMARAMA!

Everyone* has had humiliating moments.

something's fishy

"I went home from school sick one morning and ended up being out for a week. The day I came back, the principal was holding a mandatory locker check because there was a horrible smell in the hallway. I slowly opened my locker and there was my tuna fish sandwich from the day I left early! Everyone started gagging—even the teachers. To be safe, I always buy my lunch at school now."

MAIN SQUEEZE

"My crush invited me to hang out with him and some friends, and of course I said yes! We went skateboarding and were joking around, trying to see who could fit into an opening in a fence. I managed to slip my head through and it got stuck! They had to call the fire department, and it took them 25 minutes to pull me out!"

ace of cakes

"I work at a bakery decorating cakes with an airbrush. Sometimes it's hard to control the spray, so it gets all over me. One day, this really cute guy came into the shop. I was flirting with him and didn't understand why he kept chuckling under his breath. Later, I looked in the mirror and saw the insides of my nostrils were bright green from the frosting! I called in sick the day he picked up his cake."

SOUND CHECK

"For my drama club play, we use clip-on microphones, even during practice. One day, I went to the bathroom and flipped the switch to 'mute' so no one could hear me peeing. But I guess that function was broken because when I got back to the theater, the entire crew was cracking up and telling me to lay off the liquids! Now I hold it no matter how bad I have to go!"

THAT STINGS!

"I was at the beach when I saw two hot guys. Hoping to impress them with my surfing skills, I started showing off. Right when I was about to turn for a wave, I noticed a stingray! I screamed and paddled as fast as I could to shore. But when I turned back to look, I realized I was screaming over an umbrella. One of the guys picked it up and flung it at me. I blew my chance with them over a 'killer umbrella'!"

the naked truth

"Freshman year of high school, I invited friends over to my pool for my birthday, including a bunch of girls I'd just met. We were all sitting in the Jacuzzi when my best friend came over and pulled my pants down! I wound up flashing all these people I barely knew two weeks into school."

SEPTEMBER HOROSCOPES

by sally brompton

virgo

Aug 23–Sep 22

For a planner like you, back-to-school is a super-fun time of year. Unfortunately a bitchy girl keeps shooting down your best ideas! On the 16th, Pluto will urge you to confront her to see what's really up. Turns out, she's feeling left out and wants to help. Will you let her? That's the real Q.

libra

Sep 23–Oct 22

It's hard to admit, but you've been feeling a little bored with your usual crew. When the sun moves into your sign on the 23rd, you'll try hanging out with another clique at school. It may feel weird at first (and your old friends will get jealous), but this year is all about making new connections.

scorpio

Oct 23–Nov 21

You've been getting close with a cool new girl at school, but near the 27th, you'll be itching for some "me time." At the last sec, you'll bail on plans with her to do your own thing. Your longtime pals are used to your independent streak, but she'll be confused and hurt. Explain yourself or she'll bolt.

sagittarius

Nov 22–Dec 21

Although you're competitive, you normally laugh it off when things don't go your way. But on the 3rd, a situation will bring you thisclose to acting nasty when you don't finish first. Before you get all diva-ish, be aware your crush will be watching and it might not be the best way to impress him.

capricorn

Dec 22–Jan 19

You and your BFF are usually in synch, but lately it's as if you barely know her! Her emotions are all over the place and she won't say why. When you uncover her secret on the 12th, you'll be shocked—and kind of judgmental! Be careful what you say, or you may lose her trust forever.

aquarius

Jan 20–Feb 18

Sporting events are so not your thing, but near the 23rd, your friends will drag you to a big game at school. You'll be tempted to slip in your earbuds and tune out, but know there will be a guy on the sidelines who'd be a fun fling for you. You and a jock?!? Weirder things have happened.

pisces

Feb 19–Mar 20

Thanks to Mercury, you'll be mega-chatty this month, texting and tweeting up a storm. Your girls will find your posts hilarious, but around the 25th, someone will find your gossipy comments totally offensive—and could retaliate by spreading dirt about you online. Beware!

aries

Mar 21–Apr 19

Aries girls are born risk-takers, but when Mars moves in your favor on the 19th, you'll approach Gaga levels of boldness. You'll finally go forward with the huge makeover you dreamed about all summer: new wardrobe, new makeup, new everything. The results will be major.

taurus

Apr 20–May 20

You're determined to get fit this year, and with Venus in the well-being area of your chart on the 15th, you'll get a strong burst of workout motivation. The problem? Once you set a goal, you want to achieve it instantly. If you don't give yourself time to recharge too, you'll burn out—fast!

gemini

May 21–Jun 20

Gems saved a chunk of change over the summer and are having lots of fun BTS shopping—too much fun: You'll have to skip a few events the first week back due to lack of cash. But on the 16th, Pluto will give you the willpower to start saving again, so the month won't be a total wash.

cancer

Jun 21–Jul 22

Your social life has been in a slump, but that's about to change, Cancer! As the moon turns full on the 12th, you'll break free from a blah routine and hit a few cool spots you've been dying to try. Bonus: You'll meet a cute new guy who'll love your newfound sense of adventure.

leo

July 23–Aug 22

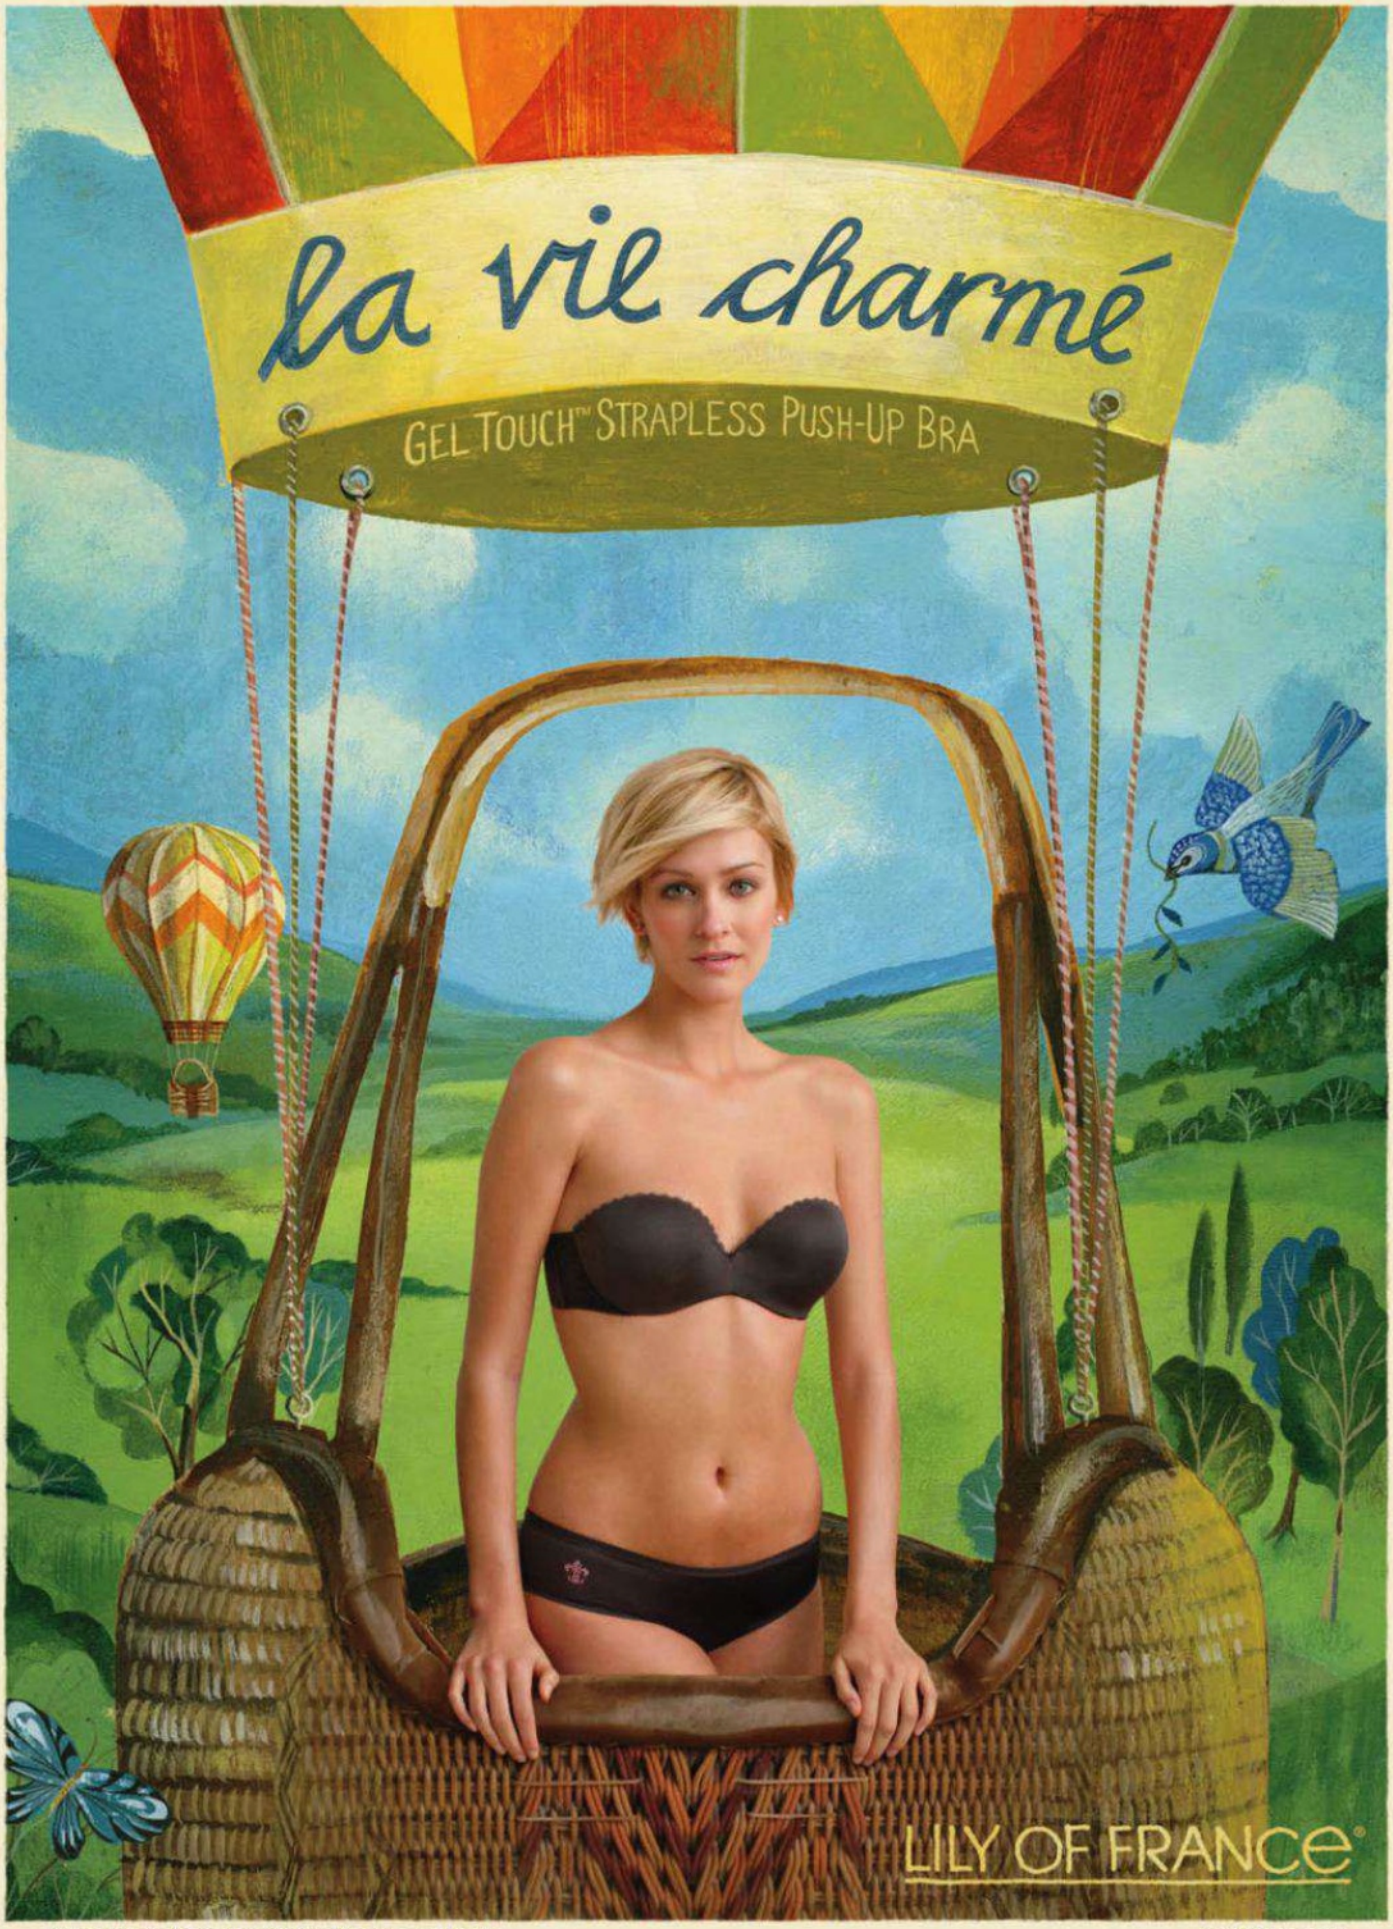

A friend will need your love smarts on the 28th! After she and her BF get into another fight, she'll ask for advice. You'd love to tell her to dump this jerk, but the stars will urge you to avoid being brutally direct. If you point her in the right direction, she'll get there on her own and stick to it.
